

FIFRA WORKSHOPS – CUSTOMIZED

Need a working understanding of FIFRA? Do you have new employees that need to be brought up to speed? Are you launching a new product area that requires registration of your manufacturing-use and/or end-use product(s) under FIFRA? Want to educate upper management, improve scheduling reliability, and control expectations?

toXcel has addressed the above situations for a number of our clients by providing customized FIFRA workshops for one or several participants. Working with a single participant or a focused company team onsite at our Virginia office (located just west of Washington, DC) allows us to provide vital instruction and guidance at an optimal pace and discuss in-depth company and product specific regulatory issues and situations. We travel to you when the size of the group makes it more cost effective for just the trainer(s) to travel.

While we will be prepared with handouts, reference materials, and a formal PowerPoint presentation, the goal is to provide a true Workshop – encouraging discussion of product specific issues and situations, regulatory options, and strategies. By restricting the participants to a single company or business area, discussions can be detailed and confidential business information can be openly discussed. In one recent case, for example, a client implemented regulatory strategy developed in our FIFRA Workshop the very next day and should be on the market with a new product registration within a matter of months.

Exclusively designed to fit the strategic objectives of you and your company, toXcel will prepare a one-day course that will provide you with:

- A working understanding of FIFRA (the basics, regulatory actions, data requirements, options, and limitations)
- R&D strategy for new product development or enhancement of existing products, and
- Regulatory strategy focused on your current issues and situations
